

Next to the Fire – Kate Stevens and Ellen Doty
Released November 8, 2019

She woke up to find her mother gone when she just 15
So many different places, faces and in between
No one to tell too proud to ask for help
Losing her way losing her sense of self

Other girls had close-knit friends weekend party plans
Waiting for someone to listen, someone to understand

Everybody wants to feel warm, not just next to the fire
But that feeling you get inside, when someone will love you till you're tired
We're all human after all, we've all been through a lot
Think of that before you walk on by.
This Christmas time

He never really had that much to say
Years of searching for the best way to numb the pain.
Saw his little girl crossing centre street
She looked right through him, he could hardly speak

Trapped inside this person, some other man
Can't someone just listen, can't someone understand..

Everybody wants to feel warm, not just next to the fire
But that feeling you get inside, when someone will love you till you're tired
We're all human after all, we've all been through a lot
Think of that before you walk on by.
This Christmas time

Stay with me now
Stay with me now
Stay with me now

Everybody wants to feel warm, not just next to the fire
But that feeling you get inside, when someone will love you till you're tired
We're all human after all, we've all been through a lot
Think of that before you walk on by.
