

S.K. Wellington – Like a Ghost Lyrics

Hey, you're like a ghost
Were you even here? I don't know
Hey was it all a dream?
I can't tell, but your fingerprints are everywhere

I'll remember all the places I loved you
I know you will too
I won't tell him, I won't tell him no
I'll remember all the waves that defined you
I know you will too, we won't tell him we won't tell him no

Hey, I'll let you go
That mantis shrimp punch right to my throat
You always knew how to swing
When I'm down in everything

I'll remember all the places I loved you
I know you will too
I won't tell him, I won't tell him no
I'll remember all the waves that defined you
I know you will too, we won't tell him we won't tell him no

I remember your demons
I remember when you were just dancing
But then you let them in your bed
And you let them drive your head

I'll remember all the places I loved you
I know you will too
I won't tell him, I won't tell him no
I'll remember all the waves that defined you
I know you will too, we won't tell him we won't tell him no

Hey, you're like a ghost
Were you even here? I don't know
Hey was it all a dream?
I can't tell, but your fingerprints are everywhere
