

SONG TITLE: RIDE

WRITERS: BRAD FLEISCHER, RYAN FLEISCHER, NICK SAMOIL

KEY: C

I kept going straight when I should've turned left
Hit a corner store 'bout an album West
He said "Is there something I can help you find?"
I just laughed and said some peace of mind

I gotta get away, gotta get away tonight

Ride follow no one throttle open wide engine revving tearing up the
Side of every mountain top north of the borderline
All alone I ride

Put a hundred more clicks underneath these tires
Just to get myself a little bit higher
These mountain roads feel better than home
It's never felt so good just being alone

And so I ride, follow no one throttle open wide
engine revving, tearing up the
Side of every mountain top north of the borderline

Sunrise paints the motel room
Waking up next to the ghost of you
Autumn whispers through the pines
"We all get up, or get left behind"

So I Ride, follow no one throttle open wide
engine revving tearing up the
Side of every mountain top north of the borderline
Alone I ride
Got my eyes on that horizon line
Engine revving tearing up the
Side of every mountain top north of the borderline
Like it's the last ride on this side of the sky
All alone I ride

All alone I ride
Follow no one
Middle of no where
I ride
